

The National Trust of Australia (WA) invites teachers to

'Reading Rocks'

Professional Learning focusing on Perth's Colonial Graveyard

links to Australian Curriculum: History and English

Target Audience: Primary and secondary teachers.

Headstones can be read to tell their stories. The session will include time to explore the final resting place of many significant Swan River Colony settlers. Also included is a workshop conducted by the Trust's Education Officers. You'll come away armed with information, an awareness of resources and historical skills, knowledge and understandings.

Join us to find out how a school excursion to East Perth Cemeteries can provide a focus for historical inquiry and cross curriculum programming whilst developing an appreciation for WA's heritage.

A UNIQUE EXCURSION TO CELEBRATE THE NATIONAL YEAR of READING!

WHERE: East Perth Cemeteries, Bronte St, Maylands

WHEN: Wednesday 9th May 2012

TIME: 3:45pm - 5:30pm

(coffee/tea and biscuits available on arrival)

COST: No charge

RSVP: phone 9321 6088 (office hours)

or email trust@ntwa.com.au

by Monday 30th April 2012

Bookings essential

NATIONAL TRUST