

School leavers resource kit

We've developed a kit of resources to help high school leavers and their parents navigate the world of Youth Allowance and other Centrelink payments.

What's the kit for?

Every year students and their families look for information about financial help after high school. Our kit is a suite of resources for education providers to share with students and their parents. It will help students and families know what Centrelink payment they could get and how to claim.

What's in the kit?

The kit has the latest information about our payments, eligibility and claiming. It also has guides to get students set up with their online account. There are resources for sharing electronically, others for printing and some printed publications you can order from us.

Where can I find the resource kit?

Go to the Services Australia website to download the resource kit.

How can I use it?

Please share this information with your students or other groups who support students. You can use the article and social media posts we've included in this document in your own newsletter or social media channels.

Where do I go for more information?

Visit servicesaustralia.gov.au/eduproviders if you need more information about our payments and services to share with students.

What if I need help?

If you have any questions about our resources or would prefer resources in another format, please get in touch with us at student.communication@servicesaustralia.gov.au

Publish this article in your newsletter, on your website or however you like to share information. You'll find both the image and article in the kit.

Fuel your future after high school

Find out what support you can get from Centrelink to help steer you to success.

Whatever adventure you're going on after school, you'll want to be ready for the journey. Just like the scouts say, it pays to be prepared. Centrelink has payments for students and trainees to help you with the costs of doing uni, TAFE or an apprenticeship.

If you're doing full-time study or an Australian Apprenticeship, you might get Youth Allowance as a student. If you're an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander student or full-time Australian Apprentice, you might get ABSTUDY.

If you're looking for work after school, maybe including part-time study, you might get Youth Allowance as a job seeker.

See what payments and services you can get using the Payment and Service Finder. You can even get an estimate of how much your fortnightly payment could be. To get an estimate, you'll need to enter in information like your parents' income and where you'll be living.

Even if you're not quite sure what course you'll do next year, apply early. You can apply up to 13 weeks before your course starts. This way you're more likely to have your payment when you need it. Getting through your last year of school and taking that next big step can be stressful. If you're struggling or want to speak to someone, you can contact headspace. They have mental and physical health support for young people. You can also use the Payment and Service Finder to find services in your area.

Ask your questions on Facebook

If you have questions about your eligibility and how to claim, you can ask Services Australia online. Connect with Student Update on Facebook or Twitter. You can ask questions and stay up to date on what's happening.

Keep in mind, you shouldn't share personal details in a public space like social media.

You can also subscribe to get email updates on the latest news for students and trainees delivered to your inbox. You get the information that affects you while you're getting a payment.
