Subject: 2017 Schools Clean Up Day

Dear Peter

Every year hundreds of thousands of Australians get stuck in and clean up their local environment by collecting and removing rubbish on one of three Clean Up Days – Business Clean Up Day, Schools Clean Up Day or Clean Up Australia Day.

Because when the rubbish is gone – nature can carry on.

Our 2017 national Schools Clean Up Day [SCUD] will be held on Friday 3 March. On this day participating primary schools will be out removing rubbish from their chosen site.

Resources we provide free of charge to schools include:

- Schools Clean Up Kit – a starter kit containing bags, gloves for teachers and resources to help plan the event
- Their own Schools Clean Up Day webpage
- Access to our Schools Clean Up Curriculum Toolkit – containing a range of curriculum aligned lesson plans for both primary and secondary schools.

I am seeking your support of SCUD. You can help to clean up Australia's schools by assisting us with:

- Spreading the word about SCUD through your networks
- Supporting and encouraging schools to participate
- Getting involved in a SCUD site yourself
- Encourage your networks to donate to Clean Up so we can continue to provide our services and materials free of charge to schools

We appreciate any support you have to offer. SCUD is a great way to educate children, teachers, parents and community members about Citizenship and looking after their community. Clean Up is not government funded – we rely on the goodwill and support of communities and partners to deliver Clean Up Australia Day.

Groups and individuals can register at <http://www.cleanupaustraliaday.org.au>

In closing I would like to introduce you to our 2016 Youth Officer:

Phill Hughes - contact details

tel: 02 8197 3422

Phill will manage our relationships with schools and is available to assist you and your department with any enquiries you have about the 2017 campaign.

Regards

Ian
