

Professional Learning

Term 1, 2018

It's nearly NAPLAN time again!

Join us and hear how expert teachers use Brightpath as the impetus to create and support innovative teaching strategies. They will also share how they have used Brightpath to confirm that some of the age-old teaching practices, do work.

Presenter

Rosemary Simpson

Session

If you can't say it, you can't write it.

A little more about the presenter

Rosemary has recently retired and was Principal of the North East Language Development Centre. Rosemary has developed a number of resources to support the teaching of oral language.

Belinda Bewick

More assessment can lead to greater improvement

Belinda is a deputy at Mindarie PS. Mindarie is flying with Brightpath and they are getting great results.

Chrissy Gillett

Not preparing students for NAPLAN

When we invited Chrissy to share the exciting work she is doing in using Brightpath to empower her students, her first comment was that she doesn't prepare her students for NAPLAN. Her results show that what she is doing, is working really well.

Melanie Osborne

Learning sprints – what are they and do they work?

Melanie, who is now a deputy at Aubin Grove PS, has supported many schools to get going with Brightpath. Melanie has led exciting work using learning sprints.

Shelley Forbes

Moderation for learning

Shelley Forbes supports CEWA schools in implementing Brightpath and helping them use the moderation process as a tool for learning not only reporting.

Sandy Heldsinger

Sandy will share tips and tricks to help you use Brightpath to refine your NAPLAN preparation.

Using Brightpath to improve student learning - Presented by Dr Sandy Heldsinger

This full day Professional Learning program, for schools who are just getting started using Brightpath, provides detailed advice on how to develop effective assessment practices in your school. It includes essential information about leading your school in using Brightpath.

Using Brightpath to drive school improvement - Presented by Dr Sandy Heldsinger

This full day Professional Learning program is for schools that have used Brightpath at least twice to collect whole school data. The workshop focuses on using the data to review school performance and set school targets.
