THE IMPACT OF EDUCATIONAL RESEARCH:

A 360

DEGREE PERSPECTIVE

Much has been written and discussed about the impact of educational research. Teachers and educators are exhorted to use evidence based teaching practices. But what are the impacts of such research and for whom, and by whom? Forum 2017 will explore these issues in a panel consisting of stakeholders in the field of education. This start to the Forum will both challenge and reaffirm your existing notions of the relevance of educational research.
