

Fractions: The other "f" word!

- Are you a teacher of students between Years 3 and 9?
- Are you looking for something different in a professional learning experience?
- Would you like to strengthen your capacity to teach fractions in particular and mathematics in general?
- Would you like to have the chance to gain recognised prior learning credit to a higher degree at no financial cost to you?
- Are you willing to be part of a research study?

Fractions and decimals can be difficult to teach and to learn.

In this practical, research-based, professional learning program, we will explore the "big ideas" with fractions, and try some enjoyable and effective approaches to these important topics.

Participants will be working collegially to determine some practical activities and approaches and will be developing principles of effective teaching and learning which can be applied across all mathematics.
