This symposium is presented by the Association of Independent Schools of WA (AISWA) in partnership with the Graduate School of Education at the University of Western Australia (UWA)

Who should attend?

Anyone interested in leadership for learning and school improvement is welcome to attend.

What is the symposium all about?

Hear what others are doing. Join in the conversation.

Five experienced teachers and school leaders will present their action learning projects promoting organisational improvement. They are all currently studying for the Master of Educational Leadership at UWA. The action learning projects formed an important part of the Leadership for Learning unit that they completed with Professor Simon Clarke in 2015.

You are most welcome to join us to listen to the five presentations and to contribute to the conversation around leadership and learning.
